1. Situación / Sentido de la Asignatura

1.1 Contextualización

Due to its very essence, economic, social and commercial activity rests on people and on their behaviour. A business' success or failure thus relies on human activity.

Human Resources have always been the fundamental element to achieve success for any kind of organisation, although the need to optimise individual contributions is increasingly being recognised.

In this field, day by day, more and more attention is being paid to all the issues related to this business asset of vital importance: people.

In the particular field of commerce, the achievement of key objectives such as customer service, satisfaction and retention or service quality are based on the quality and behaviour of the Sales Force.

This subject reviews the different aspects of managing Human Resources in general and the Sales Force in particular.

1.2 Relación con otras materias

Within its own subject area, it is strongly related to the Business Organisation subject.

Likewise, it is strongly related to subject areas such as Labour Law through the subjects Employment Law and Social Security and Occupational Risk Prevention.

It also has a complementary relationship with the subject areas Communication (through the subjects Commercial Communication: Advertising and Sales Promotion and Communication Techniques) and Marketing (through the subject Sales and Commercial Process Management); in any case, the different disciplinary approaches preclude the possibility of overlap.

1.3 Prerrequisitos

None.

2. Competencias

2.1 Generales

General skills

G1. Demonstrating the possession and understanding of knowledge in the area of Commerce, based on a general secondary education foundation, at a level that, supported by advanced textbooks, also includes some aspects involving knowledge from the forefront of commercial activity studies.

G2. Being able to identify the different aspects that directly and globally affect the commercial activity of businesses and knowing how to apply the overall knowledge gained to their work or trade in a professional way, and having the skills that are typically shown by means of preparing and defending arguments and solving problems within the commercial department of a business in the context of a globalised, dynamic economy subject to a constant process of change and technological innovation.

G3. Having the ability to gather and interpret significant data, within the commercial field, to make judgements that include a reflection on relevant social, scientific or ethical issues.

G4. Being able to convey in Spanish and in another language (English, French or German), both orally and in writing, information, ideas, knowledge, problems and solutions in the commercial field, analysis results, action or business proposals, the grounds and underlying reasons for them, in a way that is clear, concise and understandable both for specialist and non-specialist audiences.

G5. Having developed any necessary learning skills that will allow students to continue training in commercial activity and in other aspects of business management with a high degree of autonomy.

G6. Acquiring a global, multicultural vision, applying the knowledge and skills needed to organise, direct and manage the commercial area of a business in the current economic context.

Transversal skills

T1. Acquiring the skill of learning and knowledge from the references, as well as from the permanent sources of documentary information and statistics that will give them the necessary ability to continue studying, researching or learning in a permanent and autonomous way.

T2. Achieving the skills needed to properly use ICT (information and communication technologies) in the field of study and professional context, as a tool for expression and communication, to access information sources, as a means of storing data and documents, for presentations, learning, cooperative work and to manage any commercial operation.

T3. Learning to understand and respect social diversity and multiculturalism as an enriching personal and group element, in order to develop coexistence between people without distinctions of sex, age, religion, ethnicity, social or political status.

T4. Knowing how to behave in an upstanding way that is consistent with personal and professional principles and values (ethical commitment), taking into account the various ethical instruments made available to them. This means being familiar with the ethical instruments that regulate their professional activity, acting with integrity and honesty in any situation, even in situations that are unfavourable to their own interests, being respectful of rules and laws without needing to be supervised or monitored, as well as knowing how to recognise, accept and take responsibility for mistakes made and their possible consequences.

T5. Acquiring the potential to work as a team, demonstrating the ability to coordinate people and specific tasks, accepting or refuting the arguments of others through logical reasoning and contributing with professionalism to the smooth running and organisation of the group based on mutual respect.

T6. Being creative, with initiative and entrepreneurial spirit, attaining the ability to offer new, different solutions to conventional problems and situations, as well as having a good willingness to act in a proactive way, putting ideas into action in the form of activities and projects in order to make the most of opportunities, assuming the necessary risks.

T7. Being able to recognise new situations (both in the competitive environment in which their professional work is going to be undertaken as well as in changing work methods), as well as adapting to changes with versatility and flexibility.

T8. Knowing how to develop and maintain high quality work in line with standards and managing by process using quality indicators for continuous improvement, through the use of indicators that assess progress and results, through proper planning and implementation of activities, seeking constant improvement in everything that is done, and through participation in self-assessment processes, assuming responsibilities as both assessor and assessee.
